Re: GENOMETRICA RESEARCH, INC.v. GORBOVITSKY, et al.
Case No.: 11-CV-5802(ADS)(AKT); Our File No.: 7375-G

Your Honor:

We, together with Blank Rome and Hofheimer Gartlir & Gross, represent the Plaintiff Genometrica Research, Inc. (hereinafter "Genometrica") in the matter referenced above.

We do not object to Defendants' motion to adjourn the status conference scheduled for December 12, 2013, and are available on the future dates in January 2014 suggested by Defendants. See Doc. No. 84.

In addition, we request an adjournment to file the list of outstanding discovery deficiencies from today's date to a date before the rescheduled status conference. Given that Defendants are attempting to obtain documents responsive to Plaintiff's demands, we believe it would be more productive to delay this filing instead of burdening the Court with the dispute at this time. We also request that Defendants be directed to provide Plaintiff with an update on its efforts to obtain the responsive documents no less than one week before the list of outstanding discovery deficiencies are due to be filed, so that we may work to narrow the issues for the Court.

Respectfully submitted,

Panagiota Betty Tufafielo
